Introduction and Purpose of this Booklet

I have rights! Some of these rights are human rights that all people have, and some of these rights are legal rights because I live in the United States. Additionally, if I receive services in my home or the community in the state of Minnesota, I have a set of rights known as the Service Recipient Rights.

This booklet is a tool to help me identify my rights and advocate for those rights. There is space under each section to write down any questions or concerns I have regarding my rights. At the end of the book is my full list of Service Recipient Rights, as well as a list of resources on who I can contact if I have further questions about my rights or need help advocating for my rights.

Rights and Responsibilities

I have responsibilities! Along with rights, come responsibilities. Your first responsibility is to know your rights and use them! Other responsibilities include things like being safe, being respectful of others, and understanding consequences of choices.

Living in the community, it is also important to remember that others around you also have rights; everyone must work together to respect each other's rights. No one person's rights are more important than another person's rights. When rights conflict, everyone involved must work together on a solution.

In this booklet, after each right is discussed, there is a prompt for you to think about your responsibilities related to that right.

A Note about “Teams”

Throughout this booklet, you will see the word “team” used frequently. You have the right to choose who is on your team. While you may have a case manager or other paid service providers involved, you may also choose to have family, friends, or coworkers on your team.

I have the right to be heard

- ◆ Be asked my opinion
- ◆ Decide what services I want, and how I want services to help me
- ◆ Make my own decisions
- ◆ Make choices— big and small
- ◆ Talk about what is working well and what I like
- ◆ Share what isn't working for me, or what isn't going well (example: if I don't like waking up at 8am and would rather sleep in until 9am)
- ◆ Make a complaint or share a concern, and know who I can talk to if my concern is not addressed
- ◆ Tell others what I think about my home, my job, my roommate, my services, etc.
- ◆ Use alternative communication devices, such as iPads, tablets, communication boards, sign language, recorders, and hearing devices

What being heard means to me:

Concerns or feelings I have related to being heard:

My responsibilities related to being heard:

- ◆ Be respectful of others—this means listening to others and having an open mind
- ◆ Share without yelling
- ◆ Schedule a time to talk when needed
- ◆ Keep myself safe - not harm myself to be heard. If someone else is angry or frustrated, choose to talk at another time.
- ◆ Be aware of when I should or shouldn't use profanity

Things I want my team to hear:

How I will share these things with my team:

When I will share these things with my team:

I have the right to know and direct my services

- ◆ Help select my services and providers
- ◆ Help decide what my services will look like
- ◆ Give feedback on how my services are going
- ◆ Know how my provider can support me and in what areas they can't support me
- ◆ Have my preferences respected on how I want services provided
- ◆ Know my provider's admission criteria
- ◆ Know when and why my provider might need to pause or end my services
- ◆ Have my providers work together to support me
- ◆ Know how much my services cost
- ◆ Know how my services are paid for
- ◆ Have staff who are trained and know how to do their job and support me

Things to think about:

- | | | |
|---|---------------------------|--------------------------|
| ◆ I know what services I receive | <input type="radio"/> Yes | <input type="radio"/> No |
| ◆ I know the purpose of each service I receive | <input type="radio"/> Yes | <input type="radio"/> No |
| ◆ I am able to give feedback on my services | <input type="radio"/> Yes | <input type="radio"/> No |
| ◆ I know why my providers might need to pause or end my services | <input type="radio"/> Yes | <input type="radio"/> No |
| ◆ I feel that my providers work together as a team to support me | <input type="radio"/> Yes | <input type="radio"/> No |
| ◆ I feel like my staff know how to support me | <input type="radio"/> Yes | <input type="radio"/> No |
| ◆ I know how much my services cost or where I can find out how much they cost | <input type="radio"/> Yes | <input type="radio"/> No |

My responsibilities related to my services:

- ◆ Ask questions about my services
- ◆ Tour and learn about services
- ◆ Speak up when I don't like something or want something done a different way
- ◆ Follow guidelines if I want to cancel or end services
- ◆ Learn the limitations of services I receive
- ◆ Think about how I can combine supports from my friends, family, neighbors, volunteers, technology, and paid providers to get the support I need
- ◆ _____
- ◆ _____

Here is what I need to know or do to address any “no” answers on the previous page:

- ◆ Ask for a different provider
- ◆ Ask for a different staff from that provider
- ◆ Know what other options are available to me
- ◆ Know the effect of refusing or ending services
- ◆ Receive a written notice if a provider ends services
- ◆ Service providers sharing important information to transfer services and meet my preferences

My responsibilities related to refusing or ending services:

- ◆ Share my thoughts or feelings
- ◆ Understand that if I stop services immediately, I might not have the support I need
- ◆ I might need to ask friends or family to help out if I don't have a service provider or haven't planned to switch to a new service provider
- ◆ I may need to look for another provider that can better meet my needs with the help of my case manager, family, and friends

- ◆ _____
- ◆ _____

Are there services I am currently declining or wanting to end? Why?

I have the right to vote

- ◆ Know what it means to vote
- ◆ Receive education on voting

These are the ways I prefer to communicate with my family and friends:

- Mail, letters
- Emails
- Phone calls
- Texts
- Social Media, including: Facebook, Instagram, Twitter, _____
- Other forms of communication: _____

Is there anything keeping me from being able to contact my family and friends as often as I would like?

Here are things I would like to discuss with my team to ensure I can contact my family and friends as often as I would like to, using the methods I prefer:

My responsibilities related to communicating with others:

- ◆ Be respectful of how I communicate with others
- ◆ Be careful what information I share to keep myself safe
- ◆ Be careful what I post online
- ◆ Respect people's preferences of when and how often I contact them; avoid harassing people
- ◆ Learn about common scams and how to be wary - check in with others when I am being asked to do something
- ◆ Leave a voicemail if I want a call back
- ◆ If I share a phone with others, allow others to use the phone
- ◆ If I have my own phone, pay for my phone bill
- ◆ If I work, I must follow the rules of my employer
- ◆ If there is someone I don't want to communicate with, I need to let others know so they can support me

These are responsibilities I might struggle with in this area:

These are ways my team can support me in this area:

I have the right to live where I want to

- ◆ Choose where I live
- ◆ Choose who I live with
- ◆ Be informed of all my options
- ◆ Feel safe where I live
- ◆ Privacy in my home
- ◆ Live where I can afford
- ◆ Have where I live treated as a home and not a place of business (group home)
- ◆ Have my concerns heard and addressed if I am unhappy living where I do or with whom I live with
- ◆ Receive support if I want to move out of my current home

AREAS FOR IMPROVEMENT

Am I happy with my current living situation?

Here are things I want to discuss or explore with my team related to my housing options and rights:

My responsibilities related to living where I want to:

- ◆ Budget & plan for my needs of home, food, clothing
- ◆ Pay my rent and bills on time
- ◆ Be respectful of my neighbors
- ◆ Keep my space clean and safe
- ◆ Participate in the development of house guidelines
- ◆ If I live in a licensed setting (such as a group home), cooperate with inspections and licensing checks
- ◆ _____
- ◆ _____

These are responsibilities I might struggle with in this area:

These are ways my team can support me in this area:

Additional rights for residential settings

If you live in a residential setting (such as a group home or foster care setting), there are additional rights you have specific to that setting. These include the rights to:

- ◆ Access the common areas of the home, including shared living rooms, dining rooms, and the kitchen
- ◆ Access three healthy meals and snacks every day
Some of the money a provider receives for residential services includes money for food
- ◆ Access food and drinkable water at any time
This means if I want a glass of water at 2:00am, I can get a glass of water
- ◆ Determine, with my housemates, any “house guidelines” to respect everyone’s preferences regarding things like visitors and use of common areas. Staff cannot create “house rules” for us.
- ◆ Furnish and decorate my bedroom. If I want to hang up posters of my favorite band, I can!
- ◆ A clean and safe home, free from hazards like garbage, mice, or insects
- ◆ A home that follows the State Fire Code. This includes having a plan to escape in the case of a fire that is known by all who live and work there.

My responsibilities related to living in a residential setting:

- ◆ Be respectful of others who live and work in my home
- ◆ Participate in required emergency drills (such as fire and tornado drills)
- ◆ Do my part to keep my space healthy and sanitary
- ◆ _____
- ◆ _____

Is there anything keeping me from enjoying my rights related to living in a licensed setting?

Here are things I would like to discuss with my team to ensure I have my rights related to living in a licensed setting respected:

I have the right to make decisions about my life

- ◆ Choose what I do with my free time
- ◆ Do things as often as I like
- ◆ Go on vacations
- ◆ Explore new activities
- ◆ Be supported how I want to be supported
- ◆ Be the one to make my decisions about my life or, if I need help, have the people I trust the most help me make decisions
- ◆ Have my desires heard and supported, even if some members of my team disagree
- ◆ Have someone help advocate for my desires
- ◆ Access outside help and support in advocating

THAT IS NOT HOW I
WANT TO GO FORWARD

How do I feel about “nothing about me without me?” Are there things I want to discuss with my team related to this?

My responsibilities related to making decisions about my life:

- ◆ Consider the health and safety consequences of my decisions
- ◆ Share my desires and preferences with my team
- ◆ Ask for support from people I trust when needed
- ◆ Have money to do things I want to do
- ◆ Consider the short and long-term impact of my decisions
- ◆ _____
- ◆ _____
- ◆ _____

Decisions about my life I am currently thinking about and would like to discuss with my team:

I have the right to assert my rights

- ◆ Advocate for my rights
- ◆ Remind others of my rights
- ◆ Have my family or friends advocate on my behalf– including at team meetings if I want
- ◆ Have my legal representative (if I have one) advocate for my rights and what is important for me
- ◆ Not worry about retaliation by anyone for asserting my rights

My responsibilities related to asserting my rights:

- ◆ Know my rights
- ◆ Know who to contact if I need help advocating for my rights
- ◆ Be respectful of other people’s rights
- ◆ _____
- ◆ _____

Now that I have reviewed my rights, is there a right I need to assert or ask for support with?

What about rights modifications?

In rare situations, certain rights can be modified. A rights modification should only ever be put into place to ensure your health, safety, and well-being. Additionally, the following requirements must be met:

- ⇒ Only certain rights can be modified
- ⇒ You (or your legal representative, if you have one) must sign off on the rights modification. You (or your legal representative, if you have one), can end the modification at any time.
- ⇒ There must be a clear reason for the rights modification that is related to keeping you safe and healthy
- ⇒ There must be a way for you to get the right back. The steps must be very clear and easy to measure.
- ⇒ The rights modification must be reviewed by you and your team at least every year
- ⇒ Your service provider must keep clear documentation

Do you have a formal rights modification? If so, do you know what needs to happen in order for you to regain the right? Write down any questions or concerns you have regarding rights modifications:

Resources

Who can I talk to if I have questions about my rights or feel like someone is not respecting my rights?

There are many people you can reach out to if you have questions about your rights or if you would like help advocating for your rights. This includes:

- ◆ Ombudsman for Mental Health and Developmental Disabilities:
 - ◆ 1-800-657-3506
 - ◆ ombudsman.mhdd@state.mn.us
- ◆ Disability Law Center: mylegalaid.org
- ◆ HOME Line: homelinemn.org (help for renters)

I want to learn more about self-advocacy. Are there resources or groups out there I can connect with?

Yes! A lot of great work is being done in the state of Minnesota to support people with disabilities to advocate for themselves and their rights! Below are just a few:

- ⇒ Self Advocacy Online - selfadvocacyonline.org
- ⇒ Disability Hub MN - disabilityhubmn.org
- ⇒ MinnesotaHelp.info (search for advocacy and self-advocacy agencies)
- ⇒ Advocating Change Together (ACT) (includes information about Self-advocates Minnesota (SAM)) - selfadvocacy.org
- ⇒ The Arc (includes information about People First) – arcminnesota.org

Glossary

Below are some terms you may see throughout this booklet and in the Service Recipient Rights that may be new to you or words you don't use in your day to day life.

Bias: treating someone in a way that is unfair because you do or don't like them

Consensual: both people agree and are ok with what is happening

Ethnic: something related to a culture, nation, or other group of people

EUMR: emergency use of manual restraint; when a physical restraint (or hold) is used to keep someone from hurting themselves or someone else.

Evaluate: to carefully review and decide the significance, worth or condition of something

HIPAA: the law that requires providers to keep your information private and secure

Harassment: to annoy or bother someone again and again

Licensed setting: a setting that a provider owns. A common type of "licensed setting" is a group home or a Community Residential Setting in Minnesota.

Modification: when someone is limiting or not allowing you to have that right fully in place

Provider: a person or company that is paid to help and support others by providing a service or services

PSTP: Positive Support Transition Plan. This type of plan is created to end the use of prohibited procedures and avoid the emergency use of manual restraint in order to keep someone safe while that person learns new skills.

Service: the type of help or support you might receive from a provider

Terminate: to end something; in this case, to end services
