

MCWTS

Minnesota Child Welfare Training System

A joint effort between the Minnesota Department of Human Services and county social services agencies

NEW TRAINING OPPORTUNITY: Social and Medical Histories

This training will provide a general overview of social medical histories for children in foster care. It will be a review of policies and procedures related to the social and medical history document, as it relates to permanency.

Local agency workers and case managers who work with children in foster care who want a general understanding of the social and medical history document should attend.
